Crazy dino park poop

Page 2: reddit.iffmmv... I previously told the world that I had developed an addiction involving jeeps, dinosaurs and poop. Finally, I realized that I should probably explain what on earth I was talking about and why it's not as disgusting as it sounds. My addiction is an iOS app called Dino Dodger. It's one of those games that's so ridiculously simple, it's a little addictive. The basic concept is that you drive a jeep around and collect as many dino eggs as possible without hitting any of the dinosaurs themselves. If you hit a dino, it'll let out an angry growl. If you hit three dinosaurs in total, you're dead. Of course, there also a goofy element to the game-dino. If you drive through a pile of dino poop, then your screen - or rather your windshield - will become dirty and you'll try to figure out where you're going. This will of course hit the dino very likely- and you can see that this is exactly what I did in the video above. That's all there is to this game - jeeps, dinosaurs and poop - and if you're as easily amused as I am, that's all you really need. G/O Media can get a commissionDino Dodger will cost you a dollar and is available in the App Store now. [TUNES] Welcome to Crazy Dino Park! Come and explore this unique place. Also a video tutorial with game video. I also let you know about piggy bank.crazy dino park game.wikiThere are so many unique places in the game that you can explore. You can discover the dinosaur fossil, which is under rocks and soil. Dig the earth and rocks and find the dinosaur fossil. Collect giant skeletons and arrange them in the right format to keep the dinosaur alive. In this way, you can bring extinct creatures back to life. Do not end here, you can also create your own park in this puzzle game. There are many unique and stunning countries to explore in this game. To do so, you need to deviate from the excavation, where you collect fossils of long-dead dinosaurs and other prehistoric creatures. Once you manage to collect the entire skeleton of the dinosaur specie, you can bring it back to life and place its living representative in your dino park for people to see. In the game you will also need to learn how to keep revenue flowing to purchase new upgrades for your park and develop your kinds of dinosaurs. However, this work can be problematic for the new ones in the game. Fortunately, there is a beginner's guide for Crazy Dino Park to help you take the first steps in the game. If you want to become a successful manager of a dinosaur park, feel free to read and learn some of the most useful tips and tricks! 1. Learn excavation tricks to collect dinosaur bones in Crazy Dino Park. If you want to bring many forgotten species back to life, you will have to embark on excavations and collect dinosaur fossils. If you want to be successful in your efforts, there are some things you want to keep in mind when digging dinosaur bones off the ground. Each kickoff trip costs you a certain amount of money, so you will need to plan your trips carefully so as not to end up with little or no funds at all left in your pocket. As you already know, to revive a long-dead dinosaur, you need to collect all the bones that belong to a certain specie. Sometimes, in order to assemble the skeleton of a prehistoric creature, you will need to visit the excavation site more than once, and this will require even more money from you. The best idea is to focus on these dinosaur skeletons, which are easiest for you to complete in a relatively short period of time and with little effort. Planning excavation trips with respect to your needs and resources will save you a lot of money, because you will simply focus on these sites that have the best chance of shed the bones you currently need. Sometimes dinosaur bones appear under the rocks. To get to them, you will need to use pickaxes to break the rocks and decipher the missing bones, that you only have 3 pickaxes available for the journey, so you only have to break these rocks, which will give you the highest chance of detecting dinosaur bones. But how to spot the right rock? On excavation, not every rock consists of a single boulder, but there are also whole clusters of rocks. If you look closely, in the gaps between the boulders, you will be able to spot fragments of bones under the rocks. Paying attention to this little detail will save you a lot of resources and precious time that you can spend differently. Just as there is a trick when it comes to rocks, there is also one about bones. Well, how am I supposed to say that... Some of the bones are fake. Knowing how to distinguish them from the right ones will surely help you save your pickaxes on the dig. The way to tell the right bones from fake is that the attention bones are the ones that have sharp edges, while the fake ones are a little rounded on the sides. Even if you only have 3 pickaxe shows, you can easily recharge them, either by purchasing an additional set of 3 pickaxes per 1 gem, or by watching an advertising video of the long 30s. I would sincerely recommend the second option as you will need gems for other and more important purposes. Remember, however, that you have a limited number of ad tracking options, so you shouldn't rely on the ability to replenish that a lot, but rather focus on what you can do naturally see the right bones. There will be cases in which you will not be able to collect all the bones and you will need to reconsider the excavation site to complete the dinosaur skeleton you are working on. It is always good to get as much profit as you can from each excavation trip, so if you realize that in any case you are able to get all the bones, be sure to break random stones for additional gold coins, gems or special items that can be hidden inside them. The same applies to the situation in which you have completed the task and you have some of the pickaxes on the left. By remembering these hints, you maximize your chances of collecting bones, gold coins, gems and special items hidden on excavation. 2. Know How To Become A Successful Dino Park Manager Planning your excavation trips is but one of the many things that you want to care of when playing Crazy Dino Park. Once you manage to connect all the bones together and bring the specie back to life, you have to turn your eyes to your park. It's time for some managerial work! Let's be clear: the main goal of the game is to bring more dinos to the park, and for this you need to organize additional excavation trips. Now, in order to deviate from the new paths you need gold coins, and you can get them once your park gains more popularity points marked with white thumbs in the upper left corner of the screen. There are several ways and places from which you can get gold coins, such as ticket sales People love food, so you should also invest in a Hot-Dog stand and collect coins from here. Once you reach level 10, you will be able to unlock the dino arena where you can challenge other dinosaurs to fight against your own. At the beginning of the game, you will only have 1 tournament in which you will be able to participate, but the more successful you are, the more advanced tournaments you will unlock. You can get a few hundred gold coins for the tournament, so it's a good way to agricultural money on a regular basis. At this point it is also important to learn about how the fight between dinosaurs actually happens. Battles between dinosaurs are played alternately, and all you have to do is tap the device screen whenever the battle bar turns green. In this way, you will deal the highest possible damage to your enemy. However, remember that once you are late in carrying out a strike, your attack will most likely fail and you will simply lose your chance of being hit. As you can see, it is important to tap the screen in a very short time span. What's more, if you happen to be super accurate (and lucky), you'll be able to make a super blow that instantly knocks down your opponent. Each of your dinosaurs also has statistics that you want to take note of. Two crossed swords show the power with which your dinosaur strikes, the red heart represents the points of stamina, and the running man shows how quickly your dino attacks. Before starting the battle you will have some time to choose your fighters and assemble them on the ring, so be sure to keep the stats in mind and choose dinos wisely! Another reason for obtaining gold are expeditions on which you can send your archaeologists. To organize one, you will need a special device where you will plan your businesses. Once you send your people to the desired location on the expedition map, it will take some time (actually hours) to come back with a reward. It is good to invest regularly in expeditions, as they provide you not only with other gold coins, but also dinosaur bones, special items and gems. Don't forget to always keep your archaeologists busy for regular income! In addition to income involving your park equipment, the first thing to do in your park is breaking all the broken rocks in the area. They are easily recognizable because they have a brown color. Also remember that at the beginning of the game, one of the broken rocks in your park have a hidden gold mine, which should provide you with several hundred gold coins - a very useful support, especially when you are on the verge of bankruptcy, so it is wise to save it for hard times. Sometimes, visitors will also drop their coins to the ground for you to collect. People pay for what they like, so the more satisfied they are with the attractions of your park, the more they pay you. The easiest way to collect your money is to swipe the screen from one dino pen to another, hoping that some of your visitors will what they see. Usually, small coins will fall to the ground, which count as several gold coins. Sometimes, however, if they like something much, they will drop the big ones that count as 50 gold coins. Be sure to click on them quickly because there won't be forever! There is also a trick to pull many visitors dino pen of your choice. Just keep tapping one of your dinosaurs and let him jump into place. By doing so, you will attract your visitors to that creature, and that will increase your chances of getting more money. 3. Get more Dinos to make your visitors happy the main way to get new dnos as already said is by collecting dino fossils. Only by completing the entire skeleton will you be able to revive the specifics. Assembling your dino from scratch usually takes some time, especially if we're talking about such advanced species as triceratops or stegosaurus, which skeletons contain four different types of bones. Each excavation trip costs a certain amount of money, so you need to plan your efforts carefully does not end completely without funds. It is best to focus on skeletons that have already been partially assembled, so at least you will have some goals that you need to follow. In addition to acquiring new species by simply collecting dinosaur bones and bringing them back to life, it is hatching from an egg or transforming your low-tiered dinosaurs into high-tiered ones. You can get dinosaur eggs during excavation trips. Once you get one, make sure to place it in an incubator and wait from a few minutes to a few hours until your dinosaur hatches. Of course, you don't literally have to wait and watch your dino grow, because Crazy Dino Park is an idle game that collects money and counts the time even if you are not present in the game. You can also speed up the hatching process by spending the required amount of gems. Once your dino hatches, it will be automatically moved to one of the existing dino pens or new ones if it's a new specie. Another important feature in Crazy Dino Park that you want to keep in mind is the possibility of evolving your dinosaurs. You can upgrade your dinosaurs by combining two creatures of the same specie and the same layer. There are 6 levels on which you can get your dinosaurs. The point of upgrading your dinosaurs is twofold: to make them stronger in the arena and to attract more people to your park and in the process get more gold coins because people have to see different species. Also, the stronger your dinosaurs are, the greater it will be possible for them to withstand the blows of enemy dnos and win tournaments for you. Profit from getting more gold coins, well... I don't have to explain it to you, do I? You can develop your dinosaurs by dragging one representative of the specie on top of each other and they will combine into a higher-level creature than their predecessors. Make sure you're at the pen when it happens because I can guarantee you that visitors to your park Go crazy and shower you with their money in reward for having the chance to witness that spectacular event! Oh, and remember that each new specie requires a special pen where it will grow, and building one, of course, takes time. You can also decide to speed up the construction process, but it will cost you some gems. 4. Complete goals to level up, unlock more places and get more gems to experience real progress in the game, you will also need to remember to complete the goals. Only then will you be able to level up, unlock new locations on the kickoff map and get rare purple gems as a reward. Usually, you have to do such tasks as upgrading a certain specie to a certain level or increasing the number of dinosaurs. At the beginning of the game, you don't really bother that much with the following objective panel because I can guarantee that you will complete most of them without even tracking your progress. In the later stages of the game, however, it is good to keep in mind tasks so that you know what to focus on (and save money). Once you've completed a set of tasks, your excavation map will be updated to get new destinations with new species of dinosaurs waiting to be explored and dug up. Remember that the further you progress on the map, the more expensive your excavation trips will be. Crazy Dino Park is a fun game that perfectly suits young and adult players because of its appealing, cartoon-like graphics and relatively easy mechanics. However, it also requires a certain amount of strategic approach when managing your park, the ability to plan trips for excavations and send your men on expeditions to benefit from it. Also, as you can guess, a lot depends on sheer happiness, but if you decide to follow some of these tips, you can increase your chances of success to the maximum. And that ends our crazy Dino Park beginner guide! Good luck managing your park, and if you happen to have other useful tips or tricks for the game, feel free to share them in the comment section below!
